Howdy Folks,

A goal I set over 30 years ago was to clean up the water on earth. Since then a lot of progress has been made but we still have a ways to go.

Recent experiments have shown that it is possible to change the purity and taste of water at a distance. My best success was doing this for a Dowsing Conference in Italy by Skype. The people attending the conference reported their water tasted much better.

In my language, the way to do this is to 'scramble the frequency' of all pollution in the water and transform it into pure water.

Everything vibrates at its specific frequency and if this frequency is changed, then it becomes something else. The intelligent human mind has the ability to change the frequency of the pollution in water.

This may be too simple for technically minded people, but my mind thinks in simple terms. It works. So there is no need to complicate it.

Now that we know how to clean up water, it is time to take this information to another level and clean up pollution. The animals in the ocean are dying because of the pollution so let's see if we can do something about it.

A few years ago, my friend, Faye Henry, and I discussed how to use the same principle on eliminating pollution. She suggested to transform the pollution into its original elements. It didn't seem the time was right back then, so I didn't say much about it.

(Faye runs my webinar and websites. She plays gongs at several conferences across the US and will be playing in Sedona, Az. again next year. You may want to go if you have the chance.)

In a conversation with Steven Hairfield this week, the subject came up and he thought the time was right. This may be because people are becoming more concerned and we are now able to reach more people with this information.

We invite you to go to my site www.RaymonGraceFoundation.org/cleanearth on the time Faye will list below and join us in the project and lets see how much we can do to clean up all pollution.

Each of you can send this to your email list and we can reach millions. The earth has been poisoned and we can do something or we can do nothing. If we do nothing, then nothing will happen~~ if we do something, then something might happen ~~so let's do something.

I asked my friend Steven Hairfield to comment on this. His comments are below. If you have questions about the project instructions or the website, email Faye. If you have questions on Stevens comments, call or email Steven.

Join us and lets do something!

Raymon

(From Steven Hairfield)

I am in complete alignment with this endeavor and human support is the necessary ingredient to assist us in this honorable purpose. The small things in life are dying like the honey bee. If we lose too many then our food source is going to be damaged or nonexistent. Bees are dying due to this pollution and this is just a small example of what Raymon is suggesting.

It is time that we all come together in a united common cause for if we wait for the governments or the corporations then nothing will be accomplished. Consider something, if we destroy the earth, and there is a tipping point, where do we bury her? More importantly where do we go? We are closer than ever to reaching that point and the bee is a small example of this dynamic.

Intention experiments have proven themselves to completely work. We must understand that all is energy first, all things including a rock and all of life along with pollution is just rearranged energy. The mind of the human has the direct ability to influence that energy. With proper focus we are able to change things. When the energy is shifted then the material thing is indeed rearranged and put back to its natural state and the pollutants are removed and the particles go back into Mother Earth.

If you are in doubt that is fine. Then we would say do not join us. If you have faith in this then please join in and support this simple idea. I was taught as a monk in India the infinite possibilities of this ability and have worked with it for years. We are as infinite as the entire universe. If you know of anyone else who would join in this project, please share this with them. It is important that we take action.

If you have questions feel free to contact me directly with the information below. I also invite you to visit my website or schedule sessions with me.

And from Faye....

The Pyramid Conference in Chicago was great... we had speakers from around the globe talking about pyramids. I recorded audio and have CDs that you can listen to the speaker's presentation. They will be available for order until June 30th on my website at www.TsVibrations.com

Raymon has a webinar starting on Friday...this Friday the 17th...so if you want to learn to energize water yourself as well as all the other great things he teaches, sign up now to participate. Register here up until Friday at noon.

Now for the new project to clean up pollution around the world... a key component in being extremely successful as a group is if we can be of one mind. When you have hundreds of people and they are all attempting to do the same thing in hundreds of different ways....it creates chaos instead of good results. Yet when we work together with one intention and one process and one intended end result...each person joining in increases the amount of energy for the project and therefore the amount of good that can be accomplished with that energy.

So we ask you (and anyone you would like to invite to join us) to join in to work toward a clean environment filled with clear water, clean air, and clean soil on our Earth. What we can accomplish working together is only limited by our belief in ourselves and our imagination. We are powerful...together we are even more so.

Please join us to make a difference. We ask you to go to Raymon's site....

<http://www.raymongracefoundation.org/cleaneearth> at 8 PM your local time on June 20th. Watch the video that will be added to this page on the 20th...and join in then and any time in the future that you want to do so. It will stay in place for now and you can watch it and focus your energy to that project at any time you like. This is where the power lies, when we gather and are of one focused mind. So we will give you a video to focus on....and some gong music too! So join in on the 20th and repeat as often as you like. Invite your friends to join us! Let's create a clean environment to enjoy!

And I have kept the exciting news for last! Lots of exciting things happening with the gongs and I see such wonderful results after people experience a sonic massage. When you relax and are in a good vibration, your body knows how to heal itself and while it is not the only way...the gongs are certainly a fun way to heal, rejuvenate and revitalize your body.

In March of 2017 I will be in Sedona again...for a Sonic Massage and for a 2 day retreat with gongs and Boni Oian's Claim Your Life Process. Come join us...details are on my site at www.TsVibrations.com/sedona2017.html and if you register before July you save money. So let's go play in the red rocks of Sedona!

Interested in a Radionics Symposium? Here is more information from Ron Barone.

We appreciate you!

With joy and laughter,
Faye
